Dear Parents and Carers,

Teachers will be posting remote learning activities as normal today, however we want your children to take advantage of what may be the biggest snowfall of their childhood.

We do not expect anyone to post any responses to work today. Instead, we would like your children to have the opportunity to be children in the snow.

Last week was Children's Mental Health Week and the weather has gifted us with one of the best boosts for mental health that a child can have.

Enjoy your day making memories!

With warmest wishes,

Duncan and Kelly
